

Mustard Seed of CMC Makes $25,000 Gift to Family Promise

Religion | Mon, 03/08/2010 - 8:09 am | Read 207 | Commented 0 | Emailed 0
Tags: Family Promise, RIO GRANDE, st. mary's episcopal church

By Herald Staff

Laurie Johnson, director of Family Promise of Cape May County, received $25,000 gift on behalf of the organization from Tim Noble, left, president of Mustard Seed of Cape May County. Sen Van Drew gives resolution.

RIO GRANDE -- On Saturday, March 6, Laurie Johnson, director of Family Promise of Cape May County, received a gift of $25,000 from Mustard Seed of Cape May County.

Joining volunteers at the brief ceremony was Sen. Jeff Van Drew (D-1st) who congratulated members on the grand reopening of St. Mary's This 'N' That Thrift Shop in the rear plaza of Village Shoppes of Rio Grande.

Proceeds from the shop's earnings made possible the gift to Family Promise.